

Large Project 2021 Evaluation Report

Executive Summary

Indigenous youth leaders' projects, funded by the Large Project 2021 grant, primarily focused on cultural revitalization, along with wellness, land-based learning, and relationship building. The grant enabled fair wages, supporting youth leaders to pay staff adequately and provide honorariums to participants, facilitators, and Elders. The projects were successful, fostering sustainable programming and skill development. Grantees faced challenges due to unexpected delays and newly navigating and coordinating leadership roles. Youth leaders found solutions for the challenges by adapting and pivoting when something wasn't working for them. When grantees were faced with the challenge of low participation numbers, they found solutions through offering accommodations to their participants (bus tokens, providing food, gift cards etc). Another challenge that grantees overcame was navigating pandemic restrictions through communicating with their participants and seeking community support. Overall, youth leaders and their participants gained cultural, agricultural, relational, and creative skills from the Large Project 2021 projects, enhancing community connection and personal growth.
